Think This Snow Is Big? Did You Hear About....?

So you think the snow has been unusual, do you? Shucks its only a flurry compared to some of the snow-flake stories that were heard over WFUL Wednesday in a special OPERATION SNOWFLAKE program conducted by staff members of the station.

Asking its listeners to call in snow-stories, the staff members heard experiences of snow-jobs that would put Wednesday's experience in cold storage for use this summer.

Now take the big snow on December 7 and 8 in 1917. That was one that old-timers like to talk about in the summer time because it makes them cold just to talk about it. Mrs. R. B. Watts first called the station to say that it was a lulu and took up into March of the next year to thaw out. Said she: "I had to cross my feet on a horse when I went home it was so deep."

But Roy Bard comes along with one that many folks around the Cayce area will remember and perhaps after hearing about it again will recall that on the night of December 7 a home talent play was to be staged at the Cayce school. Roy said that the only reason he went was to be with his sweetheart (who is now Mrs. Bard) and he didn't care a thing in the world about the play. But the play ended in a strange way, because Roy, his sweetheart, John Rose, Cecil Burnette, Clyde Linders, the present Mrs. Harvey Pewit and others had to stay in that school house all night long.

The next morning the boys made a pathway to the country store, bought weiners, crackers and other provisions and at least kept from starving. Before long, he said, a train came along and took the group to Rives, Tenn. and they were even marooned there for awhile before they were brought on to Fulton where many of them stayed until the "big thaw." No telling when that was.

Mrs. J. A. McCarty of Hickman remembers that big snow too, and that poor lady had to wait three days to see her husband because he was marooned on a river-boat for three days and finally walked 18 miles home in shoulder-deep snow.

Calls came from everywhere about the other big snows in this life-time. Mrs. J. T. Denning called from Union City to tell about the snow of 1886... that was a whopper; Mrs. M. B. Brown remembers her favorite snowstorm; Mrs. Elmer Johnson of Hickman called about her snow-time frolic; and from Kenton, Tenn. Mrs. W. D. Williams called to tell about the Mississippi snows she's witnessed. And Delia Todd was carried away with these youngsters because she remembered the big snow of 1891. And Bob Cannon remembers the snow of 1902 when he was snow-bound with small-pox.

And then, intrigued with the snow stories some gay persons called and identified themselves as the Royal Mounted Police, Sergeant Preston of the Yukon and even Santa Claus.

You think this a big snow... "why I remember when... the snow was so bad, a fellow named Mac McDaniel and his wife came by my house to help me get out of my narrow one-way driveway and he drove my car, (said he knew how to snow-drive) so far in a ditch that it'll be Easter Sunday before I can get the steering wheel

Humphreys Is Indicted On Murder Charge

The Graves County grand jury which went into session Monday at the opening session of Graves Circuit Court, Tuesday afternoon returned a murder indictment against Robert Humphreys, 36-year old county attorney of Hickman County.

Humphreys was arrested at Erranton's home immediately following the shooting and taken to the city jail. He was later removed to the county jail.

Arraigned before County Judge Henry Jack Wilson on a murder charge, Humphreys stood mute before the judge.

A coroner's jury ruled last Wednesday that Erranton's death was caused by gunshot wounds at the hands of Humphreys.

Erranton's wife testified at the inquest that Humphreys emptied a .45 calibre pistol at her husband, after previously announcing that he had come to kill Erranton.

Mrs. Erranton said she and her husband tried to reason with Humphreys, and that she read passages from the Bible in an effort to save her husband's life.

Humphreys has maintained a steadfast silence since the shooting.

Former Governor Johnson First To Announce For Senate Race

KEEN JOHNSON

Former Governor Keen Johnson, of Richmond, Ky., announced that he has definitely decided to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate in the primary election May 24. He said "I have discussed the Senate race with Democrats in every section of the state and find that my candidacy is generally acceptable."

Keen Johnson was born in Lyon county, the son of the Rev. Robert Johnson, a circuit rider Methodist preacher. He was reared in West-ern Kentucky, living in Lyon, Livingston and Crittenden counties. He voluntarily entered the Army shortly after declaration of war in World War I and served in France for 18 months.

Following Johnson's release from the Army, he returned to his native State, and while acting as a cub reporter on a Lexington paper, attended the University of Kentucky from which he graduated in 1922. He published weekly newspapers at Elizabethtown and Lawrenceburg. In 1925 he acquired an interest in The Richmond Daily

Register and is now president of the company that publishes the newspaper. His home has been in Richmond ever since. He served as secretary of the Democratic State Committee and was elected Lieutenant Governor in 1935. In 1939 he was elected Governor on a platform of no increase in taxes and a pledge to make a "saving thrifty, frugal Governor". He takes pride in the fact these promises were kept. While Governor, the state debt was paid in full, this amounting to about six million dollars. He spent less money than the legislature appropriated and left a surplus of 10 million dollars in the state treasury.

On leaving the Governor's office Johnson was invited to join the Reynolds Metals Company, of which he has been a vice president and a member of the board of directors.

In 1917 Johnson married Miss Eunice Nichols of Missouri. They have one daughter, Mrs. Robert A. Babbage, who with Mr. Babbage and two sons, Robert, Jr., and Keen, reside in Lexington, Kentucky.

Siegel Plant on Fourth Street Being Repaired; Employment To Reach 1000

A work load of almost 1000 garment workers for the twin cities is in prospect when the old Henry I. Siegel Co. plant is restored to safety requirements within the near future. With more than 600 workers anticipated at the new and modern Siegel plant in South Fulton, another 350 employees will be on duty at the old plant on Fourth Street.

Condemned nearly two years ago as unsafe for occupancy the Siegel management has made temporary repairs at the old building for emergency maintenance, however under an arrangement negotiated with the Fulton Improvement Company, the City of Fulton and Sam Siegel, owner of the garment plant, extensive repairs will be made and the old building upgraded to standard requirements of safety and production.

Here's the story: Adhering to the recommendations of a large engineering firm that the old building be braced with steel in all parts of the structure and other improvements be made, Mr. Siegel advised the Fulton Improvement Company that he would assume the more than $60,000 cost of repairing the building, with the principal interest to be paid over a ten-year period. Mr. Siegel further advised that he would maintain the building in good repair over the period, pay interest, taxes and insurance and other expenses incident to the operation of the building for that time.

Riceville Property Owners Ask To Be Annexed To City Of Fulton

A representative from the Riceville area appeared before the Fulton City Council Monday night and presented a petition, signed by 45 Riceville property owners, asking that the Riceville community be annexed to the City of Fulton.

The City Council decided to begin necessary steps for the annexation, such as advertising, a hearing, etc.

W. M. Adams resigned as a member of the Fulton Power Board and Clayton Joyce of the Ferry-Morse Co. was appointed to fill the vacancy.

The Council voted to advertise for bids for the enlargement of the city garage and maintenance building (the city barn), to be the board of directors of the firm, accepted the proposal made by Mr. Siegel and in turn took the matter to the Fulton City Council, seeking their aid in making it possible to keep the huge factory here under terms of the Kentucky Enabling Act.

The Fulton City Council in a vote of five for and one against agreed to issue revenue producing bonds under the Enabling Act for a total of $80,000, which is the total, plus interest needed to repair the old Siegel plant. However, the City of Fulton could not issue the bonds until the plant met the requirements of condition and repair of a building set forth by the provisions of the Kentucky Enabling Act.

To meet the requirements the Fulton Improvement Company has secured a loan of $60,000 to make the necessary repairs and put the building in condition to meet the legal requirements. On March 22, the board of directors of the Fulton Improvement Company will meet to amend the articles of incorporation, transfer its real estate to the City of Fulton and to dissolve the corporation.

The Henry I. Siegel Company has been located in Fulton for the past 22 years. Its huge payroll has been the mainstay of employment in the area during good times and bad. Two years ago a huge money-raising drive was made to raise $100,000 to build the new factory in South Fulton, with the Siegel management assuming the responsibility to negotiate for another $200,000 needed to erect the new structure.

At the expiration of the ten-year arrangement to repay the repairs on the old building the Siegel Company has an option to renew its lease for a 30-year period, paying the City of Fulton a total of $1200 a year in lieu of rent.

The plant on Fourth Street has shut down its manufacturing operations while the repairs are being made.

He is married and has three children, Mrs. Bob Vowell and Miss Nancy Latta of Fulton and Tommy Van Latta, who is with the Air Force in the Azores off the coast of Portugal. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Latta of Fulton, Route 1.

He is a native of Fulton County and has lived all of his life in this community. He is a member of the Church of Christ.

Fred Brady, county Republican chairman for many years, is the acting postmaster, having been appointed following the resignation of Jack Carter on May 15, 1957.

used to take care of all the city trucks. The Council voted to clean up and put into good condition the colored section of the city cemetery and from now on to be kept like the white section.

March 15 was set as the deadline for purchasing city automobile tags. After that date, a $2.50 penalty will be added.

The ball was kicked around on several other matters, but no action was taken. Included in the subjects discussed were Mrs. L. A. Clifton's offer to sell Greenlea Cemetery to the City of Fulton. The council was in favor of the sale, but no action was taken.

Joe Treas And George Brand Deserve Praise Of Constituents For Worthy Public Service

As the 1960 Session of the General Assembly goes into its final sessions next week it is only fitting that we add our bit of praise to the outstanding performances as legislators turned in by Representative Joe Treas and Senator George Brand, both elected last year to represent Fulton County in the House and Senate, respectively.

For all practical purposes both are termed "freshman" as far as legislative service is concerned, but when they return to their respective homes when this session is over we can proudly point to them as having performed "graduate" terms in the House and in the Senate. It has been refreshing during these past few weeks to keep abreast of what has been happening in both Houses of the General Assembly, not only through the newspapers, but through personal contact with both of these extremely capable men.

Hardly a week has gone by during this busy and arduous session that Mr. Treas and Mr. Brand have not returned home to discuss pending legislation with the home folks, seeking their advice, learning their wishes and offering their services in whatever manner they can for the betterment of our communities. Mr. Treas represents Fulton and Hickman counties in the House and Mr. Brand represents Fulton, Hickman, Graves and Marshall counties in the Senate.

At this writing a tremendously important bit of legislation is before the Rules Committee that would enable Kentucky cities to negotiate for the purchase of electrical power systems, if they so choose. The bill, HB 415, is something of a compromise bill in the repeal of the crippling Everett Act, which prohibits a municipality from erecting parallel utility lines when an existing utility is franchised to operate in a particular locality.

Mr. Treas particularly, has worked diligently with interested persons in the area to advise them of the progress of the bill. Mr. Brand has assured these same interested citizens that he will do everything possible to see that HB 415 receives favorable attention when and if it reaches the Senate.

When public servants perform as have Mr. Treas and Mr. Brand it gives us a feeling of justifiable pride that we gave them such handsome majorities in the election. Moreover their prestige and influence has been recognized by their colleagues and in this manner they have been able to do a lot of things that freshmen legislators ordinarily cannot do.

The next time you see Joe Treas or George Brand tell them that you appreciate their public service and that you are proud to have them represent you. We are!

Council Of Teachers Is Searching For Writers

The Research and Publication Committee of the Kentucky Council of Teachers of English plans to publish a brochure or pamphlet containing information about Kentucky writers, both living and deceased. To gather this information the committee is soliciting the assistance of English teachers, local editors, and other individuals (including living authors themselves). Won't you as a member of one of these groups help the Committee by sending in the kind of information suggested by the items below:

1. The location of the birthplace, burial place, or home of a Kentucky writer.

2. The location of a house or other building which is used as a museum, a shrine, or a memorial to a Kentucky writer.

3. The identification of a building or scene which is the setting for, or is otherwise identified with, the plot or episodes in a literary work.

4. A local event or incident which has been used in a literary work.

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

Your Children Need You

By Rev. Richard Madden, O. C. D.
Hospital Chaplain

I don't want to sound morbid, but I like hospitals. I like to stir up the children's ward: which kid in here can yell the loudest? And I like to drop around at the nursery to see what's new in babies. There is always something new in babies. The only thing that they have in common is that they all look like a ball of twine.

YESTERDAY a nurse showed me the prettiest little baby girl that I ever expect to see. Vickie is six months old. She is beautiful. She is an angel. She is also deserted. Her parents did not plan on her. Her existence is the result of a "mistake." So she is up for grabs.

I don't know what her parents are like, and I'm not even interested in finding out. Probably they are like the parents who figure, "The only way to cure little Johnny of biting his nails is to kick out his teeth." There are such parents around. As for such parents, I could not care less. All I care an dhope for is that kids like Vickie stop getting such crummy deals at the very beginning of their lives when they have no way to defend themselves.

PARENTS have a serious obligation to smother their kids with love and care. This isn't something you should be forced to preach about or shout from the rooftops. Because any parent who doesn't know this instinctively is a queer duck or a parent.

Love comes naturally. Motherly love comes along with the birth of the first child. It can't be explained. It's just there.

But care takes a bit more effort than love. When a "working mother" gives all her care to her work, she threatens the happiness of her child. Care for her children is what stops "Mom" from always eating lunch with the girls.

SUCH CARE demands that a mother give birth to her child. But it doesn't end there. It must be with the child all the time. And care is the very thing that must prevent "Pop" from goofing-off at the local pub on his way home from work every day.

Parents also owe their children an education. Not any half-baked kind either. Rather an education about our good God and His creation. An education about what is right and what is wrong. Children should learn about God from the beginning. Such knowledge should come to them along with their milk.

SO to those young people contemplating marriage — but without a single thought of loving, caring for or educating their children — my word of advice is:

DON'T GET married.

Back about 13 or 14 years ago, I gathered material about a Mills Point legend, and wrote a story for my special radio program and "Backward Glances" newspaper column. Bess Morris told me the story. It was an interesting article and it ran in the Courier-Journal Magazine, the Sun-Democrat, and the late Joe Curtis of the Commercial Appeal used it in his riverboat column.

When I was collecting material for my little book a few years ago, I looked for the story, but had failed to save a clipping of it.

Last week, there the story showed up in the Hickman Courier, clipped from the Louisville Courier-Journal's "Kentucky All Over". I was quite amused at how the story was being reprinted after so many years. But, that happens from time to time. I do it myself. Good stories never die!

The Mills Point legend goes like this:

Just as the cholera epidemic of 1830 was beginning, Captain Duff walked ashore from the Eastern Queen, which had docked at Mills Point (now Hickman) to pass on the latest news from New Orleans and to invite everyone he saw to a ball in the spacious salon of the Eastern Queen to celebrate the 16th birthday of his daughter, India, and the announcement of her engagement to a young sea captain.

When he returned to the boat, India Duff had gone to her cabin, complaining of illness. At supper time a slave brought a tray to her bedside and remained until she had finished eating. As he turned to leave, Linda moaned, and when he reached her side she was dead of the dread cholera.

India was dressed in her "white China silk wedding gown" trimmed with priceless lace from France, and buried in the Mills Point graveyard.

As the years passed the river ate closer and closer to the graveyard and it was decided to remove the bodies buried there. India was the last to be exhumed because of the difficulty in locating her only relative, a brother who had been an infant when she died.

When the gravedigger reached her coffin he could not lift it. The brother remonstrated with him, saying that his sister had been small and slender, and pushed the laborer aside to lift the coffin himself. He could not budge it and they decided to open the coffin. There lay India, looking just as she had in life. The silk dress and lace were perfect, but India had turned to stone.

This week is Girl Scout Week and Girl Scouts of the Bear Creek Council have begun their annual Cookie Sale.

Proceeds of the cookies sale each year go to capital funds for major needs at Camp Bear Creek, the Scouts' summer camp on Kentucky Lake.

Observing Girl Scout Week, March 6-12, are 1,770 girls registered in the Bear Creek Council, which comprises nine counties in Western Kentucky. There are 622 adults in the program in the council area.

During our big show, I saw all kinds of sights. I was really one myself last Wednesday. I appeared at work in the warmest and most awful-looking garb you ever saw. Then, on Thursday afternoon I saw a farmer wearing grass sacks tied to his feet and legs with wire. He said his goshes had holes in them so he tied on the sacks to get through the snow while feeding and milking.

Early Thursday morning a salesman took quite a spin on the ice out in front of the Hillview Hospital, and ended up in the ditch running along in front.

It was very nice of Elvis Babb and Fred Homra to furnish the Heart Sunday canvassers with refreshments and red roses. They were really appreciated.

One day recently, Mrs. Anna Belle Edwards received a letter from her sister-in-law down in Mississippi, telling of the oil strike on her property. One well had already come in and plans are for the drilling of more.

Speaking of oil wells — someone informed me the other day that Paul Heltsley's parents struck oil on their farm about a year ago. This was news to me. Paul's home, I believe, is near Elkton, Ky.

Wonder whatever happened to Mr. Allen Austin's oil well — or was it wells? Back a year or two ago, he was showing me pictures of his well, and promised me a story later. Haven't seen Mr. Austin in quite some time, so haven't learned whether his well ever came in, or not.

I understand that Gus Farmer and quite a few other local citizens have been dabbling in oil wells in Kentucky and Illinois over the past two years.

The last we heard, the oil drilling in the Fulton area is at a complete standstill.

Sure would be nice, if I had an oil well or two!

The radio station staff had to manage for news, itself, last Wednesday and Thursday. The snow was so deep and the streets so slippery, Daddy wouldn't let me drive my car, so my news just stacked up at the News office. Of course, if anything big had happened, I would have relayed it on to the station by phone.

Was talking to Mr. Brown of the Hopkins, Buck and Brown Funeral Home at Clinton, his wife and two young twin sons Thursday. One of the boys informed me that his dad heard the entire Clinton-Hickman ball game of the District Tourney last Wednesday night over the telephone. The best I could figure it out was that Mr. Brown's partner, Mr. Hopkins, had an FM radio. He put his telephone receiver near the radio, so that Mr. Brown, at his home, could listen to the game over the phone. Mr. Ky.

Brown seemed a little embarrassed that his son had told off on him.

Snow fell again on Fulton and the surrounding area Sunday night, making all streets and highways very slippery. Motorists were warned to stay off the highways, unless traveling was absolutely necessary.

Diary of Doin's

(Items gathered along Fulton's merryway for your pleasure and your scrapbook)

Where are the crocuses? Where are the March flowers? 'Tis an easy answer . . . but we know that surely it can't be long until the snows of winter will melt away . . . and give the flowers at least half a chance! Indeed, this has been a strange March . . . and if the old adage, "in like a lion, out like a lamb" is true . . . then we can be real hopeful in a week or so!

But, really, I think most of us have enjoyed the real beauty of the big, wide, white world, even though we have been greatly handicapped as to transportation et al. There's been a stillness and a quietness all around that's real unusual in this accelerated world we live in. And it has given us an opportunity to pause in our busy lives and see some of this beauty.

Yesterday I sat in front of my big window and watched a red bird eating corn from a pan in the yard and I was reminded of the lines from a poem . . . "A lovely sight, with his breast of red, His glossy wings and beaded eyes; One of life's beautiful things, I thought, O'erlying it's deeper mysteries."

But come snow . . . or storm . . . K. U. Kitchen, 10:30 A. M.

There's always a few brave ones who keep up the busy "social" life around town. On this week's calendar of social activities we know that Virginia and C. D. Jones, Betty Jean and Jasper Vowell, Bety and John Joe Campbell will host a delightful occasion at the Fulton Country Club Saturday evening honoring Gale Driver of Humboldt, the "Fair Lady-to-be" of Dr. Eddie Crocker. Dr. Crocker and Miss Driver will be married at an early date in April. Our sincere congratulations and best wishes are in order to Gale and Eddie!

Mrs. M. W. Blankenship, who will be leaving soon to make her home in Montgomery, Ala., was honored at a bridge-luncheon at the home of Mrs. Glenn Veneklasen in the Country Club Courts. Mrs. James Warren was co-hostess. The lovely affair was held Wednesday.

The Drama Department entertained the Fulton Woman's Club with a rollicking comedy entitled "Husbands Are Human" at the regular club meeting, at the Club home on Walnut.

The play has been under preparation approximately three weeks and, according to the directors, Mrs. J. H. Patterson and Mrs. Charles Burrow, the cast is expected to turn in a fine performance.

The humor of the play is enhanced by the fact that the members of the cast are performing under their own names. Mrs. Robert Rudolph plays the part of a young girl who is shortly to be married. She is thrilled at the prospect of married life, but a magazine canvasser, Mrs. Bertie Pigue, stops by and queries the sewing circle, composed of Mrs. Charles Walker, Mrs. Arch Huddleston, and Mrs. Glenn Veneklasen, on a survey. "What do you dislike most about your husband?"

At first the ladies are indignant. But the canvasser prods them a bit on some of the irritating habits of men. Then before you know it, the women are vying with each other as to whose husband is the most thoughtless. It looks as if a few happy homes are going to be broken up as a result, and Ruth is ready to cancel her engagement. Then the other half of the canvasser team, Mrs. R. O. Brown, shows up. Her question is: "What do you like most about your husband?" The ladies are stumped for a moment, but, in the end, they agree that husbands are human, too. Ruth assures her mother, Mrs. Clarence Moline, that she will take a chance on marriage after all.

Serving as stage crew for "Husbands Are Human" are Mrs. Robert Graham, Mrs. Lawson Roper, Mrs. J. P. McClay, Mrs. Bill Stokes, Mrs. C. W. Frances, Mrs. Ernest Cardwell, Mrs. Charles Jacobs, Mrs. O. C. Linton, and Mrs. Orian Winstead.

Plant Life

At Ferry-Morse Seed Company in Fulton

By Martha Jane Weeks

Well . . . ? And how have you fared during the recent snowfall? If you did as I did, you abandoned your car and walked. It was easier than having the car pushed every few minutes. But did you know that before long, we will have forgotten all about this cold seige and we'll be complaining about how hot it is! (That's only typical of human nature isn't it?)

We're indeed sorry to be losing our friend Brenda Daugherty. She is leaving us this week to accept a position with Dr. V. A. Jackson of Clinton, Kentucky. Brenda, we sincerely wish you all the luck in the world with your new job.

Shirlene James celebrated her birthday February 27, and only two days later on March 1, her second wedding anniversary. From both events, she received many nice gifts.

Despite the weather, some avid fans from our office have been attending tournaments this past week. The Kentucky First District tournament at Hickman and the Tennessee Seven Region tournament at Paris were of particular interest to this area.

Posted on the bulletin board were two very nice letters from the Third grade of Carr Institute. They were thanking the Ferry-Morse Seed Co. for some marigold seeds which had been sent to them.

Several children of our office personnel have been ill. Dorothy Hopkins' son Ricky has been sick. Bobby Foster's children have the chickenpox. Martha Crider's daughters, Mary Ann and Linda, have also been "under the weather" so to speak.

Soon to be a "Fultonian" is Elva Dicus. She is moving here from Wingo.

We received our most recent issue of "Plant Life" last week. It is a monthly publication for the employees of Ferry-Morse. I'm sure that you will be interested in

BY IRENE YATES

News is scarce this week due to the bad weather. I think everyone stayed at home unless it was a have to case for them to go. It has been a good time to stay at home. We had several absent due to the bad roads, but not as many as you would think. Most folks are just not prepared for these big snows around here.

I hope all you plant employees read your Plant Life this past week and all you other readers read Ouida Jewell's "Around Town" column, for there was an item in both about Mr. Sam Jackson being named "Personality of the Month". That is something, and we're glad it happened to Mr. Jackson. It couldn't have happened to a nicer person.

Talking about us humans wanting to stay in out of the bad weather, Mary Nell Miltstead has a black Persian tom-cat named Inky that has that same idea. It seems that last Friday morning Hafford and Mary Nell went out to the car to bring Mary Nell to work and they heard Inky talking, cat talk of course. They could hear Inky but they couldn't see Inky. After looking under the car, in the car and around the garage, no the following item taken from it.

"Constantine, a seven year old Greek boy, has 16 'proud Mamas'! That's true, for a group of our charitable minded girls have adopted this little boy, and contribute regularly to his support. Recently they gave him a clothing shower, and a plentiful supply of new garments are on their way to him. The following are a list of the 'foster mothers': Georgia Humphries, Cynthia Ferguson, Deanna Ballow, Sherry James, Hazey Grissom, Martha Weeks, June Mosley, Bobbie Archey, Alma Green, Joan Williams, Frances Choate, Betty Brashears, Carol Crowder, Geraldine Phipps and Patsy Carr."

Inky. Hafford then raised the hood and there was Inky nice and cozy. That same afternoon Hafford decided to go to the country and visit his parents. When he got over near the South Fulton Police Station he heard some mighty loud cat talk. Of course, Inky was under the hood again. Inky got to take a visit to the country in the car from there on. Maybe, over there in front of the police station it was a good thing that humans don't understand cat talk. Mary Nell works in Dept. 2707.

Valda Puckett who has been on sick leave for the past few weeks reported back to work Monday. Welcome back to Dept. 2708 Valda. Mary Frances Ramsey also of Dept. 2708 went to a Pink and Blue shower in Wingo last Saturday for Mrs. G. T. McMullins.

Now from Dept. 2709 - Ruby Seay was out several days last week due to the sickness and death of her father, Mr. James Simmons, of New Albany, Miss. We extend to her and her family our deepest sympathy.

Edna Ballow and children. Sandra and Brent, spent Sunday in Hickman with her father, M. A. Jackson.

Kenneth Azell has been absent due to the illness of his sister, Mrs. Marian Graves of Hickman, who underwent surgery at the Baptist Hospital in Memphis Friday. We all wish for her a speedy recovery.

Carl Wayne Wade, son of Audrille Wade of Dept. 2707 has accepted a job in Nashville in electronics. Carl has been studying very hard to complete his courses in this field of work. Now he is ready to put his studying to work. Good going Carl. Carl graduated from the United Electronic School in Louisville.

Dola Sisson went to Paducah Monday afternoon on business. J. D. Schumaker father-in-law lost his home by fire a few days ago. The home was located just outside of Mayfield. J. D. works in Dept. 2707.

BETTER-BRAKES...BUICK '60

BRAKES HATE HEAT!

Buick's fin-cooled Aluminum Drums get rid of heat quicker so you're safer!

Brakes generate their own worst enemy—terrible heat. Excessive heat is bad because it may cause brakes to lose part of their effectiveness. So the faster you can dissipate it, the better off you are.

Buick gets rid of heat faster by using fin-cooled brake drums. On the front wheels, where most of the braking is done, the drums are aluminum. They cost more to make but they shrug off heat much faster than drums made of ordinary metal. Buick is the only American car that makes them standard, at no extra cost, because you will be safer with them.

Best time to buy a Buick '60 is now because you will get top dollar on your old car and have a wide selection of colors and body styles from which to choose. You can own a quality Buick for less than you might think, and your Buick Dealer can arrange terms to suit your budget.

Get Equipment Ready Now

Work time is just around the corner. In fact, a lot of land has been plowed in some sections and is waiting final preparation before seeding. Immediately following land preparation will be time to plant. Before we can turn around, it will be time to do a lot of the work that it seems only yesterday were being completed. This, I guess is a sure sign of getting old even though it happens to me every day. No one likes to rush too much, but if a little time is taken now when actually there isn't too much pressing or at least you are not as busy as planting months, much time and money can be saved.

Chances are you know some parts of your equipment that gave trouble late last year. There is no better time than RIGHT NOW to get this job out of the way. It is a good plan to check every piece of machinery thoroughly. The sound thinking farmer will also begin his equipment check with the tools that will be first to take the soil.

I would say that the tractor would be first on the list using the manual which gives you details on proper operation and care for every part. When needed repainting does a lot for tractors. It not only keeps the value up, but also makes the farmer feel better to be operating well kept farm machinery. It is a good idea to follow the manual on all equipment as you make repairs and checking parts. All worn parts should be replaced and a list could be made of parts that were showing excessive wear, for frequent checking. These parts could also be kept on hand just in case the breakdown comes during a busy season. Time spent now getting ready for the busy farming months ahead will save many man hours later and this means saving money. We need to be very conservative these days, DOWN ON THE FARM.

SAVE DOLLARS

instead of pennies

... with an ELECTRIC RANGE

WHEN you save on food you save dollars instead of pennies. That's why it pays to cook electrically. Take the electric range oven, for instance... "the roast you put in is the roast you take out"—there is no drying out—little shrinkage. Foods stay moist, flavor and food value is preserved. Automatic temperature controls maintain just the right heat for moist, flavorful oven meals.

And, on an electric range the heat you select is the heat you get... reduces the loss from burning and boilovers. Controlled electric heat is ideal too for soups and stews, and other low-cost, nourishing meals.

SPECIAL OFFER
ENDS MARCH 31

If you install an electric range now, we will help pay for extra wiring needed. For each 240-Volt electric range installed in the home of a residential customer between Jan. 1 - Mar. 31, 1960, we will pay the customer $35 for changing from a 2-wire to a 3-wire, 100-ampere service, or $15 for installing a new range circuit.

Judy Wolberton Chosen Most Outstanding Home Ec Student

By Janice Davis

At the Bankers Association Dinner recently, Miss Judy Wolberton, a Fulton High senior, represented her school as the most outstanding student in home economics and the Future Homemakers of America.

Judy began her high school and FHA career at Cayce and then transferred here in her sophomore year. Mrs. Gilbert DeMyer, home ec. teacher and FHA sponsor, classes Judy as a "very co-operative student."

This active senior is now serving her second year as president of FHA. She is also a member of Nurses Club, 4-H, and Quill and Scroll; she holds the position of copy editor on the Kessel staff and was elected the best (girl) school citizen for the Senior Who's Who.

Last year Judy received her state FHA degree, the highest award achievement available in home ec. She received this award at the University of Kentucky last June at the state convention. Previous to this she had achieved her Junior and Chapter degrees.

Judy is now employed part time

Mr. Riddle was formerly manager of the Fulton office and he and his family made their home here for a number of years.

THE EDWARDS STORE, in Mayfield, is primarily engaged in selling men's wear, but also interested in preserving American ideals. So, please listen, won't you, at 10:30 each Sunday morning to Citizens Council Forum over WCBL, Benton, 1290 KC, The Edwards Store, Mayfield. 3-tc.

Fulton High School News

By Janice Davis

Talk about tests! The freshmen and sophomores took an I. Q. test early this week; juniors wishing to do so, took the National Merit Scholarship test, and today the seniors took a battery of tests given by the state employment board. (And in addition, we took all of our regular weekly quizzes, plus those left over from last week.)

The I. Q. test I have mentioned before. It is merely to find out a student's mental age or Intelligence Quotient. The N. M. S. T. was taken by juniors who hope to possibly gain a scholarship on the national level. There is a lot of keen competition on this and the testing period was from three and a half to four hours long.

On the request of the school, the seniors took the battery of aptitude tests which took practically the whole day. They tested mental ability, manual dexterity, and mechanical inclinations. The phase of this covered the legendary "putting square pegs in round holes".

When they have been scored and evaluated, technical advisors will tell each student what he or she is adapted for and possibly suggest a vocation.

QUIT YOUR KIDDING - - no, not you, that's the name of the senior play. It is a light little comedy written by Felicia Metcalf. It is about a widow and her three children (one of whom is a boy) and her rich sister-in-law whom the widow hopes will give them some money. The big hitch is that the rich old lady doesn't like boys!

We've had a new student roaming around Fulton's halls lately. His name is David Austin, a sixteen year old sophomore. Originally from Fulton, he moved back here from Big Springs, Texas, after an eight year "vacation" from Fulton. He is interested in the mechanics of radio and T. V.; and you should see the way he dances! It took him six months to pick it up.

How did everyone enjoy the snow last week? It gave us a two and a half day vacation. There was no hope of any more days off this week though; Mr. W. L. Holland, superintendent, said that we would have school Monday if "the snow was up to the second story."

The unexpected vacation might have proved to be rather of a strain to some students. None of the afternoon classes got their report card grades until this Monday.

at Baldridge's dime store; her immediate plans for the future are Murray State College where she plans to major in secondary education and English.

Judy, who likes to sew, read, and is interested in small children, is another fine example of what teen-agers are doing that is worthwhile and constructive.

South Fulton Loses Saturday

Martin upset Dyersburg and Trezevant squeezed past South Fulton in an overtime Saturday night to wind up the quarterfinals of the Region Seven boys' basketball tournament.

Martin triumphed 74-4, while Trezevant shaded South Fulton 63-62.

Unbeaten Union City, top-ranked in the state, will meet Atwood at 7:30 Monday night and Martin goes against Trezevant at 9 in the semifinal round.

Billy Tines scored 30 points leading Trezevant, while Don Parchman sparked South Fulton with 24. Carl Gateswood poured in 22 for Martin, while Eddie Bryant scored 14 for Dyersburg.

YOU'RE WELCOME

The News and WFUL are grateful for the following letter from some mighty nice folks.

The Board of Directors of the Twin-Cities Boys Baseball Association would like to extend our especially thanks to your newspaper and WFUL for the full cooperation you extended us in publicity for the benefit basketball game and in helping to be the financial success that it was.

We would also like to publicly thank both schools, their officials, players and coaches, also Mr. Clayton Joyce and Mrs. Dee Yates, who capably officiated the game without any pay.

Our further thanks to the Leader Sporting Goods for the donation of the trophies and to all the managers and other interested persons.

We hope that your efforts will be rewarded with an outstanding day. The honor roll will appear next week.

Oh, those research themes! All outlines and notes must be finished by next Friday. This is an every-year-assignment for the senior English class and though it is viewed with some horror (after all, 2000 words) there is still much enthusiasm about them. Some of these topics are: Communism, snakes, jazz, chess, witchcraft, how to make an organ, how to develop a picture, and diabetes.

Pity Mrs. Bennett who has to read all forty-odd of them!

form similar organizations in other sections of the State so that when tourists come to Kentucky we hope to be able to make available to them all the historic sites of interest in this history-saturated State.

For these past few weeks the tourist development program has been only a by-product of the assignment. Primarily I have been concerned with furnishing the Governor with much information that will be of value to him in the months to come as well as to the new Parks Commissioner who will take office on March 15. I have also had the real privilege of working with Henry Ward, the father of Kentucky's park system, and who is chairman of the Governor's Park Commission. Perhaps you read this week where the Governor has asked for a $10,000-000 bond issue to expand and improve Kentucky's vast parks program. Undoubtedly the additional revenue will put Kentucky far in the lead as America's foremost developer of State Parks. And when that is accomplished I shall feel proud indeed that I had a small part in working towards that great accomplishment.

Mrs. Newberry Postmaster

The Republican Executive Committee has announced the permanent appointment of Mrs. Mary Newberry as postmaster of the Crutchfield Post Office.

CARR JUNIORS WIN

The Carr Elementary team defeated the South Fulton junior high team by a score of 30-13. The game was played Tuesday night at the South Fulton gym.
